Academic calendar

The official academic Calendar is announced at the beginning of each academic year (1st September) by the Deanships. It determines the duration of the two semesters and of the examination periods, and specifies the official holidays.

Academic authorities

Governing bodies of the University

Act 4485/2017 (Gov. Gaz. vol. A' 114/04.08.2017) ["On the structure and operation of Higher Education"] determines that the governing bodies of Greek Universities are:

- a) the Senate,
- b) the Rector's Council,
- c) the Rector,
- d) the Vice Rectors.

The Senate is the supreme administrative body; it consists of:

- a) the Rector,
- b) the Vice Rectors,
- c) the Deans of the faculties,
- d) the Presidents of the schools,
- e) the representatives of the students,
- f) the representatives of the special categories of teaching staff,
- g) the representative of the administrative staff.

The Rector's Council is made up of:

- a) the Rector,
- b) the Vice Rectors,
- c) the representative of the students,
- d) the representative of the administrative staff.

In case of a tied vote, the Rector's vote prevails.

The Rector's Council has the following duties, specified by Greek Law, the University Charter, and the Internal Regulation:

- a) it shapes the University's development strategy and submits it to the Senate for approval;
- b) it formulates the annual university budget and submits it to the Senate for approval;
- c) it prepares the drafts for the University Charter and the Internal Regulation, which are submitted to the Rector and then to the Senate;
- d) it proposes to the Senate the appointment of special committees to deal with issues falling within its jurisdiction;
- e) it oversees the legality of university actions according to law, the Charter and the Internal Regulation;
- f) it oversees the organization of the administrative services of the University and places the personnel in appropriate positions;
- g) it proposes to the Senate the optimum distribution among the Schools of the positions of professors approved by the Ministry of Education;
- h) it performs any special duties conferred to it by the Senate for specified periods.

Rector and Vice Rectors

Eligible candidates for the position of rector are full Professors of the university. Eligible candidates for the positions of vice-rector are full Professors and Associate Professors. All are elected for a four-year term.

Universities that comprise more than 20 Schools (like the AUTH), elect four Vice Rectors with the following domains of duties:

- a. Vice Rector for Academic & Student Affairs,
- b. Vice Rector for Finance, Planning & Development,
- c. Vice Rector for Administrative Affairs,
- d. Vice Rector for Research and Lifelong Learning.

Faculties and their administrative bodies

A university is made up of Faculties, each of which covers a cluster of related disciplines. A Faculty coordinates the work of its Schools and encourages them to interact for the advancement of science, of research, and of sound teaching.

The administrative bodies of a Faculty are:

- a) the General Assembly of the Faculty,
- b) the Deanship,
- c) the Dean.

The General Assembly of the Faculty is made up of:

- a) the Dean,
- b) the professors (members of the Teaching and Research Staff - DEP),
- c) the representatives of the students,
- d) the representatives of the special categories of teaching staff.

The duties of the General Assembly of the Faculty are specified by Greek Law, the Charter and the Internal Regulation of the University.

The Deanship is made up of:

- a) the Dean,
- b) the Presidents of the Schools,
- c) the representatives of the students,
- d) the representatives of the special categories of teaching staff.

The Dean

Eligible candidates for the position of dean are full Professors and Associate Professors of the faculty. Deans serve for three years and may run for a second (continuous) term. The dates of the beginning and end of each term are specified in the official proclamation of the election.

Schools and their administrative bodies

The School is the basic academic unit of the University. A school cultivates and advances a particular discipline and the associated technology and arts; it organizes its programmes of studies and the relevant research, and awards its own Degree. The academic personnel of a School consist of its Professors (DEP), the members of the Special Teaching Staff (EEP), the Laboratory Teaching Staff (EDIP), and the Special Technical Laboratory Staff (ETEP).

The administrative bodies of a School are:

- a) the Assembly,
- b) the Administrative Board,
- c) the President.
- d) the Vice-president.

The Assembly of a School is made up of:

- a) the professors of the School,
- b) the President, the Vice-president, the Heads of the Departments,
- c) the representatives of the students,
- d) the representatives of the special categories of teaching staff.

The Assembly of a School has the following duties, specified by Greek Law, the University Charter, and the Internal Regulation:

- a) it decides the School's educational and research policy and its course of development;
- b) it writes the School's Internal Regulation;
- c) it specifies the academic field of each of the School's Departments; it also approves any change of academic specialization of its professors;
- d) it appoints a Head of Department in case of lack of candidates;
- e) it requests the Faculty Deanship's approval of joint courses with other Schools;
- f) it writes the School's Guide of Studies;
- g) it awards the School's degrees and diplomas;
- h) it allocates the teaching of the School's courses to the teaching personnel;
- j) it approves the teaching manuals for the School's courses;
- k) it appoints committees for the internal evaluation of the School and for other projects;

- l) it requests from the Faculty Deanship the creation of new positions for teaching personnel;
- m) it composes and updates the official lists of internal and external electors;
- n) it oversees the procedures for appointments and promotions of teaching personnel;
- o) it invites visiting professors and post-doctoral researchers and fully supports their work;
- p) it requests the Senate's approval for the conferment of honorary titles;
- q) it allocates the available funds to the School's various activities.

The Administrative Board (AB)

An Administrative Board exists only in Schools which comprise at least two Departments. The School of Italian has no AB; the Assembly performs the relevant duties.

The President of a School

1. Eligible candidates for the positions of President and Vice-president are full Professors and Associate Professors of the School. Presidents serve for two years and may run for a second (continuous) term. Re-election is permitted two years after the end of their first 4-year term.

2. The President of a School has the following duties:

- a) he¹ is the head of all the services of the School and supervises their proper operation according to the laws and regulations;
- b) he convenes and presides over the School's Assembly and supervises the execution of its resolutions;
- c) he convenes and presides over the School's Administrative Board and supervises the execution of its resolutions;
- d) he supervises the execution of the School's Programme of Studies;
- e) he supervises the School's register of scientific publications;
- f) he issues acts of classification of professors to part-time status;
- j) he forwards the resolutions of the School's Assembly to the competent authorities;
- k) he appoints committees for the execution of particular projects;
- m) he writes the School's annual report of activities and submits it to the Deanship;
- n) he is the School's representative to the Senate; he informs the School's Assembly of the deliberations and resolutions of the Senate.

3. The Vice-president performs the duties of the President whenever the latter is absent for whatever reason.

General description of the institution

The Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (AUTH) was created by the Greek state in 1925 on a much smaller scale. It started its operation in 1926 and gradually developed into a big modern top-quality European Institution.

Today the AUTH is a self-governing Higher Education Institution (HEI). The Greek state oversees its operation and funds it. It is the largest university in Greece, with about 60,000 students. Its main campus lies in downtown Thessaloniki, covering an area of approximately 430 km². Some AUTH facilities lie elsewhere in or around Thessaloniki, and a few in other cities.

The AUTH is an integrated university comprising 10 Faculties made up of 41 Schools; they cover a full spectre of disciplines (the humanities, natural and technological sciences, social sciences, health sciences). All the Schools offer degree courses at all levels, leading to the Bachelor's, the Master's, and the Doctor's Degrees.

The AUTH aims at providing to all equal opportunities in education, in research, and in human communication in order to achieve its vision of a better world with more favourable conditions for the pursuit of economic growth and social well-being.

List of degree programmes offered

The AUTH offers a total of 41 Programmes of Undergraduate Studies. Depending on each Faculty, some of these Programmes last four years, some five or six years, and lead to the first university degree (equivalent to BA, BSc, LLB, BMedSc, BMus, etc.). More information at www.auth.gr/faculties.

Admission/registration procedures

Admission to Higher Education Institutions is regulated and operated by the Greek Ministry of Education (www.minedu.gov.gr).

Main university regulations

The present Internal Regulation of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki was drawn up by the Senate of the Aristotle University during its meeting no. 2718/5-7-2000, and was approved by the decision of the Ministry of Education and Religious Affairs, Culture and Sports (no. 1.231/B1/425/25-8-2000), published in the Government Gazette 1099/5-9-2000 issue B'.

The Regulation currently implemented includes the amendments ordered by the ministerial decision 129201/B1, published in the Government Gazette 1562/13-12-2002 issue B', and the ministerial decision 60210/B1, published in the Government Gazette 1517/11-10-2004 issue B'.

PART TWO

Information on degree programmes

A) General description

Creation and operation of the School

Act 5139 of 1931 created the Institute of Foreign Languages as a special department of the Faculty of Philosophy of the AUTH. The commencement of the Institute's operation was considerably delayed: the department of English started its operation in 1950-51, the department of French in 1954-55, and the departments of German and of Italian Language and Literature in 1960-61. The Italian department admitted its first students in 1961 and held its first graduation ceremony in 1965.

The Higher Education Act (1268) of 1982 re-organized the Faculty of Philosophy. It abolished the Institute of Foreign Languages and upgraded the four foreign-language departments into full-status independent Schools.

Qualification awarded

Degree of the School of Italian Language and Literature of the Faculty of Philosophy of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (equivalent to Bachelor of Arts).

Admission requirements

Admission to the School of Italian Language and Literature is regulated and operated by the Greek Ministry of Education (www.minedu.gov.gr). For admissions of holders of the BA please refer to the Secretariat of the School of Italian.

Educational and professional goals

The undergraduate Programme of the School of Italian Language and Literature aims at imparting to the students intellectual cultivation, broad education, methodical development of scientific and critical thought, and a European identity and conscience. In this framework, our Programme is oriented towards the provision of sound grounding in the fields of Linguistics, Didactics, Literature, History, Culture, Art, Semiotics, Technology, Translation and Interpretation. More specifically, our Programme aims at (a) developing our students' proficiency in Italian throughout the degree course, and in accordance with the provisions of the "Common European Framework of Reference for Languages" of the Council of Europe, (b) providing our students with a firm grounding in Linguistics, so that they become able to scientifically analyse the Italian language and communication by speech, (c) familiarising our students with modern teaching methods and pedagogic approaches, with a focus on the particular issues of teaching foreign languages, (d) familiarizing our students with Italian literature (from the Middle Ages to the present) through an analytic and critical approach and in conjunction with an understanding of Italian art and culture, (e) training our students in linguistic mediation, so that they can professionally function as translators and interpreters.

In its practical outlook, the Programme pursues learning goals and skills which enable our graduates to follow professional careers in the fields of Education, Translation and Interpretation, Publishing, Culture, and Research. Our graduates are fully equipped to (a) teach the Italian language in public and private schools, (b) produce original material and aids for the teaching of Italian, (c) teach Italian literature and culture, (d) conduct scientific research in Italian literature, art, history, culture, linguistics, didactics, semiotics, technology, translation and interpreting, (e) support linguistic and philological research in various research centres and institutes in Greece and abroad, (f) offer specialised services in translation and interpretation projects, (g) do expert linguistic mediation between speakers of Italian and Greek, (h) serve as expert advisors to various state agencies, (j) employ information and communication technologies in teaching Italian as a foreign language, (k) operate various systems of asynchronous distance teaching, (l) evaluate, select and promote works of Italian literature for publication in Greece.

In addition to their scientific grounding, our graduates have the following practical skills: (a) to apply theoretical knowledge to practical problem-solving, (b) to communicate in a second language, (c) to work in groups of international composition and orientation, (d) to work in inter-disciplinary environments, (e) to plan and execute research projects, (f) to coordinate groups of collaborators for greater efficiency, (g) to solve complex problems that come up during the execution of a project, (h) to understand and respect multi-culturalism, (i) to show sensitivity to issues of inter-cultural convergence and gender equality, (j) to respect the importance of the protection of our cultural heritage and the environment, and show professional, social and moral responsibility, (k) to cultivate and promote the Italian letters, (l) to promote free productive and inductive thought.

Access to further studies

First cycle of Postgraduate Studies

The School of Italian offers the following Programmes of Postgraduate Studies (PPS) of the 1st Cycle. They lead to the Diploma of Postgraduate Studies (DPS), which is equivalent to the Master of Arts (MA).

PPS “Italian Studies and Language Sciences”

The School of Italian operates this PPS since academic year 2018-2019. This PPS confers the DPS in two Specializations:

- “Italian Studies and Language Sciences, Specialization: Literature, Translation, Culture”,
- “Italian Studies and Language Sciences, Specialization: Didactic applications in second/foreign language learning and assessment”. This Specialization has not been offered yet.

Detailed information at: <http://ma-studi-italiani-scienze-lingua.itl.auth.gr/>

Inter-departmental PPS

The School of Italian participates in the following three inter-departmental PPS:

1. PPS in Translation and Interpretation, in association with the Schools of English, of French, and of German (AUTH). Administrative support and information are provided by the Secretariat of the School of English.

Detailed information at: <http://gp.enl.auth.gr/el/postgraduate/msc-5>

2. PPS in European Literature and Culture, in association with the Schools of Philology, of English, of French, and of German (AUTH). Administrative support and information are provided by the Secretariat of the School of English.

Detailed information at: <http://www.enl.auth.gr/litma/>

3. PPS in Semiotics, Culture and Communication, in association with the Schools of French, of Journalism and Mass Media, and of Architecture (AUTH). Administrative support and information are provided by the Secretariat of the School of French.

Detailed information at: <https://dpms-semiotics.frl.auth.gr/>

Second cycle of Postgraduate Studies (doctoral studies)

Doctoral studies in the School of Italian aim at the promotion of deep knowledge through original scientific research in the fields covered by the School. Our second-cycle postgraduate studies lead to the Doctoral Degree (PhD), which certifies that the successful candidate has substantially contributed to the advancement of knowledge in his scientific field.

Course structure diagram with credits

Principles governing the structure of the programme

- i. The current Programme of Studies applies since academic year 2010-2011.
- ii. According to law every course is worth certain European Credit Units (ECTS). 1 ECTS corresponds to 25 hours of total workload for a course. The workload includes class attendance, homework, library-work, writing papers, preparation for examinations and any other work done for the course. A student must earn a minimum of 240 ECTS to be awarded the Degree.

iv. All the courses of the programme are categorized as follows, on the basis of two criteria: (1) their status as mandatory, required elective, or optional; (2) their scientific orientation.

v. On the basis of criterion (1), the following three categories are established:

- a)  Mandatory (M): Obligatory courses in all the Groups of the programme of studies. Every student has to pass these courses at some point in his degree course.
- b)  Required Elective (RE): See paragraph v. below.
- c)  Optional (OP): Free electives in all the Groups of the programme of studies; some OP courses may come from other Schools.

vi. The minimum number of required elective courses that a student must pass in each Group (see par. vii below) is as follows:

- a) Linguistics and Didactics: 2 courses
 b) Programme of Pedagogic and Teaching Efficiency (PTE): 2 courses
 c) Translation: 3 courses
 d) Literature: 5 courses
 e) Culture: 2 courses.

vii. The 240 ECTS needed for graduation must come from courses from the following categories:

- a) The 4 mandatory Italian-language courses: $4 \times 6 = 24$ ECTS.
 b) The 11 mandatory courses from the other Groups: $11 \times 6 = 66$ ECTS.
 c) 14 required-elective (RE) courses (see par. v above): $14 \times 6 = 84$ ECTS.
 d) 11 optional courses: $11 \times 6 = 66$ ECTS. Of these, up to 24 ECTS may come from courses of the PTE of the School of Philosophy and Pedagogy: in this case, they will be added to the ECTS total of the PPTe of the School of Italian. Six of the above 24 ECTS may come from any other Faculty of the AUTH.

- Of the 66 ECTS from optional courses, six may come from the Practical Training course: in this case too, they will be added to the ECTS total of the PPTe of the School of Italian.
- A student may choose to elect more required-elective courses than the 14 prescribed above, at the expense of his optional courses.

viii. On the basis of criterion (2) of par. iii above, the following seven (7) groups of courses are established:

- Italian language. These courses aim at developing the students' ability to communicate in Italian fluently; the goal is to reach proficiency level C2 on the scale of the Council of Europe.
- Linguistics and Didactics. These courses aim at developing the students' ability to describe, analyse and compare natural languages (particularly Italian) both as codes and as social/communicative skills and neurobiological abilities. They also aim at organising the knowledge, skills and attitudes that the students gained from their language and linguistics lessons for the purpose of teaching a foreign language.
- Programme of Pedagogic and Teaching Efficiency (PPTe). It consists of a group of courses covering these scientific fields: (1) Education and Pedagogy, (2) Learning and Teaching, (3) Specialized didactics and Practical Training. The aim of the PPTe is to cultivate in future teachers of Italian as a foreign language the skills, abilities and theoretical knowledge needed in their profession in the various forms of its manifestation: the various levels of the state educational system, private education, adult education, self-education, distance education, and any other novel type of education that may be developed by the rapidly expanding information and communication technologies.
- Translation. These courses aim at developing the students' ability to translate all types of texts (literature, science, journalism, etc). Our graduates will be able to work as translators, editors of translations and even as linguistic mediators in the broad sense.
- Literature. These courses aim at developing the students' ability to analyse literary texts, to study their historical and cultural background, and to compare Italian with Greek and European literary production. Our literature courses will be useful to future researchers in literature, and to teachers and translators and further.
- Culture. The content of these courses is in a sense complementary to the content of the domain of literature. Culture courses deal with political and social history (with emphasis on Greco-Italian relations), art, music, cinema, theatre, ideas, folklore, etc, all of which form a solid cultural foundation for the future language-teacher, the translator, the linguist, the researcher.
- Other areas. This category includes courses that don't fit precisely in any of the above, and courses that serve the goals of all the above, like computer courses, other foreign languages, etc.

The above are shown schematically in the following table:

ix. Each course bears a 5-digit code. Each digit indicates the following:

a) The first digit indicates the level / cycle of studies:

- 1 = undergraduate,
- 2 = postgraduate.

b) The second digit indicates the direction of studies:

- 1 = Direction of Italian studies.

The digit 2 is planned to be used in case of the establishment of a direction of Spanish Studies in the future. The School has applied for approval from the Ministry of Education.

c) The third digit indicates the category of the course as follows:

- 1 = prerequisite,

- 2 = mandatory,
3 = required elective,
4 = optional.

d) The fourth digit indicates the group where the course belongs:

- 1 = Italian language,
2 = Linguistics and Didactics,
3 = Programme of pedagogic and teaching efficiency,
4 = Translation,
5 = Literature,
6 = Culture,
7 = Other areas.

e) The fifth digit is the course's serial number in the group.

Programme of Pedagogic and Teaching Efficiency (PTE)

The Programme of Pedagogic and Teaching Efficiency covers three thematic areas: (1) Education and Pedagogy, (2) Learning and Teaching, (3) Specialized didactics and Practical Training. The School of Italian offers a variety of relevant courses, as shown in the following Table.

In order to receive the certificate of Pedagogic and Teaching Efficiency a student must take the following categories of relevant courses:

- i) the 6 mandatory courses of the following Table (36 ECTS),
- ii) At least 12 ECTS (increasable to 18 ECTS) from the required-elective courses of Thematic Area 2.
- iii) There is also the possibility of gaining an extra sum of up to 30 ECTS (out of the 66 provided for this category) from optional courses as follows:
 - 24 ECTS if chosen from the PTE courses of the School of Philosophy and Pedagogy
 - 6 ECTS from the Practical Training course.

To summarize, the minimum compulsory number of courses for all our graduates related to Pedagogic and Teaching Efficiency is 8 (48 ECTS), while the maximum possible number of ECTS related to pedagogic and teaching efficiency can be up to 84 ECTS.

Final examination - Examination and assessment regulations

The method of assessment of student achievement is decided by each tutor, taking into account the characteristics of the course-content and the teaching-method used; it may comprise written and/or oral examinations and papers, in a continuous or final format.

Systematic attendance of all classes is a basic condition for successful learning.

Towards the end of each semester, the students have the right and the duty to evaluate their courses and their tutors, so that ways for improvement can be sought. Details for this evaluation are provided by the Quality Assurance Unit at <http://qa.auth.gr>.

ECTS Departmental Co-ordinator

ECTS coordinator: Professor Zozi Zografidou.

Deputy: Associate professor Dimitra Melissaropoulou.

B) Description of individual course units

Individual course description sheets can be accessed at <https://qa.auth.gr/el/studyguide> (the website of the Quality Assurance Unit of the AUTH) under "e-Guide of Studies".

PART THREE

General information for students

Cost of living

Greece is not a very expensive country (luxury resorts excluded). A student in Thessaloniki can find the essentials at very reasonable prices and have a happy and fruitful stay. Check whether you are eligible for any of the social benefits listed below.

Accommodation

Undergraduate and postgraduate AUTH students, as well as PhD candidates, who come from large and/or low-income families, are entitled to free accommodation in the Student Halls of Residence.

All other students are welcome to visit the Department of Studies website where they can find a list of private accommodation offers, as well as links to some of the major real estate agents in Thessaloniki. ERASMUS students and foreign students seeking accommodation for a short period of time can visit our Accommodation website for more information.

Faculty members and visiting scholars can be housed in the Aristotle University Hostel.

Meals

Detailed information can be reached at this AUTH website: <http://www.pfl.auth.gr/>.

Medical facilities - Facilities for students with disabilities – Health Insurance

Students who have no private health insurance are entitled by Greek law to full health-care services in the National Health System, paid for by the Greek government (EOPYY)².

The Student Health Care Service (located in the University Student Club building) provides to all students –regardless of their income- primary health-care services (first aid, clinical examinations, vaccinations etc, but no medication prescriptions) and also health counselling.

The Faculty of Dentistry Diagnostic Unit provides dental care.

In addition, the AUTH provides the following health and welfare services:

- The Health Committee, which supervises the optimum operation of the university health services for the benefit of our students, especially the poorer ones.
- The Central Committee for Social Welfare, which comprises the Social Welfare Committee, the Counseling Committee, and the Student Observatory. The Counseling Committee supervises the provision of psychological support –free of charge- through the Counseling and Guidance Centre. All students are welcome to seek advice on personal, social or academic difficulties regarding individuals or groups. The Observatory of Students from Sensitive Social Groups assists with any problems faced by students
